

Ameer McGee Letter of Recommendation

05 AUGUST 2018

To Whom It May Concern,

It is my privilege to write a letter of recommendation for Ameer McGee. I had the good fortune of having coached Ameer on several occasions between the ages of 9 and 13. It was clear, early on, that he was more than just an above average athlete. Ameer was, from the beginning, a young man of high character with a relentless drive to learn, share and improve. He is the kind of player every coach loves to have on his team not just because he's a great player but he helps elevate the overall play of the entire team with his positive and encouraging attitude. In my 12 years of coaching, he ranks amongst my all-time favorite players for that reason.

Ameer works hard on all five aspects of his game and is consistently receptive to input. As we often say, it's not what you do at practice it's what you do between practices. He is the kind of player that never misses a practice and I regularly see him at the batting cages putting in the extra work. He is very competitive and off the field and has an incredible drive to be the best. Though he has typically led my teams in every offensive category, he was never satisfied with that as an accomplishment and remained focused on reaching the next level.

As great of a baseball player as Ameer is, he is even a greater young man. He is polite, humble and generous. He is active in his church, plays saxophone in the school band and excels as a student. He will be an asset to any program. He clearly has the drive to figure out what it takes to be successful.

I encourage you to give Ameer McGee strong consideration. I am firmly resolved that he will make you and your staff proud.

Take care,

Brian McDonald
