It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Mr. Charlie Breen. I have known Charlie since he was in my Intro to Business class.

In my class, Charlie created a well-rounded business plan for the Intro to Business Shark Tank unit (Created a Prototype, Business Plan and Presentation). His enjoyment he had in this unit was shown because of his love for business and entrepreneurship spirit, and skills to creating an effective and powerful presentation.

Charlie is also one of the best leaders I have been associated with in my tenure as an educator and coach. He sets a tremendous example of what it means to work hard, set goals, and pursue his dreams. While Charlie leads in a positive manner, he is not afraid to stand up for his beliefs and make unpopular decisions if it is the right and honorable thing to do.

As impressed as I am with what Charlie has accomplished as a student, I am even more proud of him for the type of person he is. He instills in anyone that Charlie meets hard work, integrity, character, fair play, and the concepts of teamwork. Charlie has a relentless work ethic and always looks to help others. He is highly respected by his teachers, friends, classmates, and has always accepted personal accolades with tremendous humility. He deflects the credit for success towards others, and has a maturity level well beyond his years.

Character, integrity, problem solver, hard worker, and determination are words used to describe Charlie Breen. He has high moral standards and does what is right. I could not be any prouder of a young man than I am of Charlie, and it is without any hesitation, I recommend Charlie to be part of your school and athletic program.

Sincerely,
