Cody is a big, strong, athletic young man. He is very versatile, as he can play any outfield position, first base, and is a developing right handed pitcher.

His very solid work ethic, both on the field and in the weight room, has started to pay dividends for him, both as a pitcher and as a hitter.

I believe his best is yet to come and that his combination of athleticism, size, strength, and work ethic will result in him being able to help a college program following his high school career.

Please let me know if you have any questions about Cody or wish to discuss further. Thank you!
