

Jeremy Brown has pop. He is a big body left hander with bat speed. He also has the ability to find the barrel creatively which makes him a good two strike hitter. He is the guy you want up when you need runs knocked in. Defensively Jeremy's height makes him best suited for the corners. He has an above average arm and throws consistent strikes on the mound.

Matt