To whom it may concern,

It is with immense pleasure that I recommend Mason Saint-Hilarie for college. I have known Mason since August 2020 when I became his American Sign Language (ASL) teacher at Ironwood Ridge High School.

As a senior, Mason is an integral part of his cohort. He exudes a consistent confidence surrounding his work and athletic lifestyle. Inside the classroom, he is engaged, asks higher-order thinking questions and learns best from his personal hands-on experience. When he finds himself challenged, he will be overt with his approach. Mason likes to breakdown any nuances for elaborate comprehension opportunities.

Mason has shown outstanding focus and drive as a student and athlete. He has an essential balance between school and baseball. He takes advantage of tutoring periods and practices open communication. At appropriate times, he can gauge when he needs help, support, or assistance. As an educator, I witness many students who aren't as effective at consistently multitasking between the two life tasks. Mason has proven his ability with high academic rigor.

Mason's natural leadership skills have been both vibrant and effective. ASL class is performance based and Mason is always one of my very first volunteers. This is exciting because he typically sets a precedence for my expectations of a presentation. He is prepared, gives maximum effort, hits required points, is confident and proud of his work.

Mason's experience, knowledge and skills are valuable and coordinate with your program. As he progresses in his college career, I am noticeably confident that the mutual acceptance to your program will benefit his growth. I am confident that he will have an excellent education career and will make a positive impact on the lives of his future professors, classmates, and teammates. I give Mason Saint-Hilarie my highest recommendation, without reservation.
