

To whom it may concern,

MASON SAINT HILARIE

Mason has well above average left-handed power and can hit for average as well. He was last measured with a 94mph tee EV. He is a good runner (7.14sec 60yd) and has a strong accurate arm (throws R). He has a big strong body (6'3/195lbs) with room to grow and projects well as a corner outfielder.

Mason is a very hard worker. He is dedicated to his craft. He continues to improve by leaps and bounds daily. I believe he can compete at the D1 level and would be a great addition to any collegiate baseball program.
