

Will Linberg - Letter of Recommendation

My name is Ron Hall and I am Will's Varsity Baseball Coach at Rio Americano High School. I have the honor of writing this letter for one of the best, if not the best player to pass through our program in some time and quite possibly throughout its existence. This young man is highly intelligent with a quick-witted sense of humor and one of the best leaders on a baseball field that I have seen in some time.

Will's academics are very solid. He works hard and his efforts in the classroom show on his transcripts. He's very well respected on campus by his classmates, teachers and staff.

Will's off field conditioning efforts are outstanding. He is well aware of the importance of continuing to gain strength and flexibility to compete at the highest levels of the game. He's works tirelessly to get stronger and as athletic as possible so that he's giving his self the best opportunity to succeed.

On the field he's a highly focused team player that will do anything I ask for the success of our team. He's very knowledgeable about the game and plays hard on every pitch while being an extremely competitive player that loves to win.

This young man can flat out hit. He is player that will hit for average and drive in runs. He can skill and understands the nuances of being an all-around hitter. He has gap to gap power at this point, but his power has increased every year within our program.

Will is a solid outfield defender with very good range and plus outfield instincts. He has plus-plus arm strength as well as being a plus-plus defender at first base.

You would be extremely lucky to have this young on your college or university campus representing your baseball program. He's a winner!

If you have any further questions, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Ron Hall
