

To whom it may concern

My name is Mike Gregory and I have had the privilege to coach Ty Carr at different times and through different milestones in his life.

Ty has evolved into a confident young man/baseball player on and off the field. He leads by example and wears his passion for the game on his jersey sleeve. Ty is one of those kids who is first to get to the practice field and last to leave. He is loyal beyond words and is typically the first out of the dugout to congratulate a teammate. When Ty is on the baseball field there is a purpose to everything he does, including getting his timing down in the on deck circle, studying pitchers, gaging outfielder's arm strength, or simply understanding the quiriness of the baseball field. Most importantly, Ty is a really good person, a good teammate and whether his having a good or bad at the plate, he is that player you want your team that causes everyone else to be a better player and person.

Thanks, Mike
