

Drake can tactfully and positively inspire those in his sphere of influence, on and off the baseball field. In others Drake instills inspiration and encouragement to not give up or to just settle, but to relentlessly pursue their dreams and become all they were created to be! This unselfish gift of seeking the best of others and not just for himself is the highest quality of character.

I am confident you will not regret choosing Drake for your program, but, will instead be delightfully surprised by how hard he pushes himself to constantly improve. Instead of temporary achievement, Drake strives for lifelong success.

Should you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Greg Scott Goodman
