To whom it may concern,

I have had the privilege of observing Bryson Sullivan's rise through education as a family friend and pastor. Bryson is a young man of integrity and of high character. He leads by example in his work ethic and in his ability to keep others on task when things are teetering off the rails. For Bryson it starts at home, as I know his parents have instilled in him what it means to be a man of courage who does the right thing at all costs and who takes responsibility for his actions in school, on the field, and in the classroom. Bryson is a quiet leader and is faithful under the radar and not for the attention or the spotlight. Because of his faith, he knows that he answers to God who sees all, and therefore he works diligently no matter the circumstances and no matter who is watching. It's been a joy to be his youth Pastor and to see the man he is becoming.

Sincerely,

Trent Murray
