

From Silverton High School head coach, Colton Meyer

“James is a player who cares about the game of baseball. He works on his skills consistently and is always looking to get better. With a strong athletic frame, high velocity on the mound, and homerun power at the plate, James has potential to be one of the best players in the Oregon 2027 class. He leads by example and pushes his teammates to their highest potential. As a head coach I feel very fortunate to have James on our team.”
