

Luke played for me the last two summer seasons. The growth from year 1 to this last season showed an individual that's willing to be comfortable in the uncomfortable as he identified elements of his game that needed adjustments. Luke has leadership qualities and understands how important is to create harmony amongst teammates. Luke is a great teammate. Luke has been our go to. Guy on a team that went 30-5 this season and has all the tools he needs to go deep into a game, and also understands how important it is to take care of his body through rest and strength conditioning. Luke has become a surgeon on the mound and has learned to set up hitters to finish them off along with his cognitive skills beyond his age. Luke has the body frame to compete with a presence. Gaining velo is his focus but even in that he can cut down good hitters because of his ability of spotting all of his pitches. I'm excited for Lukes future and will be excited for any University that selects him to be part of their athletic program.
