Coaches:

I have had the privilege of teaching Olen Nofziger for the past two years, and I am consistently impressed by his exceptional work ethic and character. His commitment to excellence is evident both in his academic achievements—where he stands at the top of his class—and on the baseball field. Olen is disciplined, always giving his best effort, and consistently goes above and beyond on assigned work. His dedication to teamwork and support for his peers highlight his servant leadership and collaborative spirit. He embodies a growth mindset, viewing challenges as opportunities for improvement and learning. His humility, honesty, and determination to be the best make him an outstanding candidate for any collegiate baseball program.

Sincerely,
