

To whom it may concern,

Kingston is an excellent student in class. He is always on time, and brings with him a great attitude and a pleasant disposition. He always tries hard at whatever is presented to him, eagerly doing his best. When it comes to classroom discussions, he regularly makes positive contributions, and easily gets along with his peers. This is the third year that I have taught Kingston and I have never once had to remind him to stay on task. He is a joy to have in class and I would recommend him for whatever position he is applying.

Best regards,
Mr. Jared T. Soper
