To Whom It May Concern:

I have the opportunity of coaching Jose (Pep) Romo on our travel high school baseball team, it is with complete confidence and enthusiasm that I recommend Pep as a young man of positive character. I have watched Pep demonstrate leadership skills and determination that is required of athletes at the collegiate level.

Collegiate baseball requires an exhaustive amount of hours in preparation, practice, and game time. Pep approaches these time management hurdles with exceptional accountability. Pep arrives early to practice, weight training, and games ready to be a team player no matter where he hits in the lineup or plays defense on the field.

Leadership comes in many different forms and Pep is a sincere leader. Teammates can always count on and trust him. Teammates depend on Pep to be level headed and making decisions that benefit the team.

As a Coach, you depend on players who can lead on the field and in the dugout, Pep is that Dude!

Call anytime to discuss Pep more in depth, as his bat to ball skills are exceptionally good!

Sincerely,

Dan "Hawk" Sanchez
