

To Whom It May Concern,

It is my pleasure to recommend Michael Neri as an outstanding athlete and person. I have had the privilege of working with Michael at the Futures Training Center, and I can confidently say that he demonstrates the qualities every coach looks for in a player.

Michael is extremely hardworking and intentional in all aspects of his baseball training. He consistently chooses the more challenging path, pushing himself in the toughest environments to maximize his growth. He never takes shortcuts and embraces adversity as an opportunity to improve.

Beyond his work ethic, Michael is a highly intelligent and talented athlete. He approaches the game with focus, discipline, and determination, making him a valuable addition to any program. His willingness to embrace failure, volunteer for extra work, and even catch bullpens for teammates speaks volumes about his character and leadership.

I have no doubt that Michael's drive, resilience, and passion for the game will make a lasting impact wherever he goes. He is the type of player who elevates those around him and who any coach would be fortunate to have.

Please feel free to reach out to me directly with any questions.

Sincerely,
Jackson Sodeman
