

To Whom it May Concern:

Over the last three school years I have taught and coached Kaden in a variety of areas. Kaden sets himself apart from his peers because he pays close attention to details; he's a student to the core. He pays close attention to all the little things in everything he does – math, English, lifting, agility training, and baseball. In short, he does everything the right way. Where I've seen the most improvement in Kaden of the years, though, is in his leadership. He's amazing at bringing people together because he always includes everybody and puts them first. He keeps them coming back because he holds high standards for himself and is always positive.

Sincerely,
