

My name is John Zubek, and I have had the pleasure of coaching Lincoln on his 13U club baseball team for the past year.

Lincoln is an incredibly talented baseball player. His tremendous talent is unsurprising considering his tireless work ethic and positive attitude. More importantly, Lincoln is a high-character individual and natural leader. Although we do not have a formal team captain, Lincoln has clearly embraced this role, leading both vocally and by example. Lincoln is well-spoken, articulate, and cool under pressure. He loves to learn and challenge himself. Further, he is patient with less-skilled teammates, and is eager to pass on his knowledge of the game and act as a mentor. He shows respect for coaches, teammates, opponents, umpires, and the game at all times.

Lincoln is the most intelligent, respectful, and mature young man I've encountered during my coaching career. Lincoln will do big things regardless of how far his athletic abilities take him. It is therefore my pleasure to recommend Lincoln for NJHS.
