

*Suzanne Napolitano Goodman
Gregory Scott Goodman⁺

 Member of New York and District of Columbia Bars*

⁺ Member of New York Bar

January 24, 2023

Dear Sir and/or Madam:

My name is Greg Scott Goodman. I am a practicing Attorney and Partner in the law firm of Goodman and Goodman, as well as the Managing Member of the Investment firm EMRO Asset Management, LLC. Finally, I am also a baseball Coach for the Ironwood High School Eagles baseball program.

It is with great pride, honor and respect that I write this letter of recommendation for Drake Stillwell. I have had a wonderful opportunity to be one of Drake's baseball coaches, these past two seasons on the Ironwood High School Eagles Varsity Baseball team. Drake made the Varsity Baseball team at Ironwood as a Freshman student. This is not an easy task, and speaks to this young man's athletic skill on the baseball field, as well as to his exemplary character.

Although, Drake was given a starting position on the Varsity team, and could have very easily become complacent, he did not. Instead, Drake has pushed himself to become and achieve even more. Drake practices relentlessly, and for hours to improve his skills. His self-motivation and tenacity allow him to play Varsity Baseball with older players, and with a great degree of success. His natural athleticism and talent as a baseball player of course, helps, but, it is Drake's heart, desiring more and his self-discipline that is truly awe inspiring.

I am sure that you will agree with me that this kind of character is rare in today's youth, and I am confident that it will benefit Drake at any University, any athletics program, and/or any employment opportunity that Drake decides to apply himself toward. I also am confident that even once accepted, Drake will not become apathetic, but will continue to unceasingly search to improve not only himself, but, whatever program he is a part of.

Finally, it is not all just about Drake. Although Drake is obviously a top athlete, he is also a straight A student. Again, a rare combination in today's youth. However, it is not being a top athlete or scholar that impresses about Drake. Drake has a rare, priceless quality of encouraging those around him. I have already mentioned Drake's unquenchable thirst to improve himself, however, he also as the remarkable gift of giving grace to those around him all the while pushing them to become more than they thought possible.