It is an absolute pleasure to be able to write any sort of recommendation on behalf of Cole Knipp. I have had the privilege of working with and getting to know Cole for about four years now. He has come to me for baseball lessons since before his freshman year of high school. I have had the honor of watching him grow, not just as a ball player but as a man above all else. He continues to strive for greatness on a daily basis, whether it be in the cage during our lessons, in the classroom, or at home. I can honestly say I am impressed by this high school senior.

Cole shows an incredible amount of maturity in everything he does, and I am truly excited to watch his future unfold. We took a small break from lessons, and it was Cole who made sure he sent me a text to find time to get back to work when it was time. This is the type of work ethic and determination to improve that Cole is bringing to daily life. He is a true asset to any group of people he is around, and he is a natural born leader by example.

In closing, I truly cannot say enough good things about Cole. I'm on the board of a scholarship foundation, so I know how cliché it is in a reference letter to talk about how much somebody deserves opportunities to succeed. However, I also know how much it means when it's written from the heart, so I will just say it simply. Cole deserves every opportunity to show the hard-working person he is and the value he can and will bring to those opportunities. Thank you for taking the time to read this and truly learn about the impact Cole makes everywhere he goes.
